

ChemPoint® Selected by Enviro Tech International as Partner for Cleaning Product Solutions in United States and Canada

DOWNERS GROVE, Ill., July 16, 2024 PRNewswire/ -- ChemPoint LLC ("ChemPoint"), a subsidiary of Univar Solutions LLC ("Univar Solutions" or "the Company"), a leading global solutions provider to users of specialty ingredients and chemicals, and Enviro Tech International, Inc., a leading manufacturer of fluorinated solvents for industrial parts cleaning applications, are excited to announce a new agreement for the sales, marketing, and distribution of EnSolv-Fluoro® and NEXT-HD PRO in the United States and Canada.

ChemPoint® Selected by Enviro Tech International as
Partner for Cleaning
Product Solutions in United States and Canada

"Enviro Tech products bring tremendous value to our portfolio, customers, and the environment. We are excited about this partnership and look forward to generating demand in the market with this long-term collaborative relationship, delivering unique industrial cleaning solutions to a wide array of industries," said Austin Nichols, president of ChemPoint.

EnSolv-Fluoro® and NEXT products are high-performance precision cleaning solvents that are excellent for vapor cleaning and as carrier fluids in deposition applications. EnSolv-Fluoro® and NEXT products stand out for their nonflammability and zero ozone depletion potential, significantly contributing to a safer environment and workplace. The EnSolv-Fluoro® and NEXT solvents are low-GWP alternatives across various industries, including aerospace, national defense, and medical.

"By leveraging Enviro Tech's cutting-edge solutions and ChemPoint's extensive distribution network, technical expertise, and product-centric marketing and sales activities, we are poised to meet the growing demand for alternatives and Next HD Pro blends across various industries. Together, we are dedicated to delivering superior performance and reliability in next-generation cleaning solutions," said Richard Morford, CEO and General Counsel of Enviro Tech International, Inc.
